

TOPICAL CLOTTING OINTMENT AND METHOD

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A topical clotting ointment in which cumin in powder form or in oil form is a blood clotter in combination with an unctuous host substance and one or more 5 infection-specific antiseptics and odorants. Method for manufacture includes processing for suspension of the cumin in the host substance and putting it preferably in a squeezable-tube dispenser (7) having an airtight cap (8).